Jose Manuel Hernandez, who was one of the chief leaders of the revolution in Venezuela during the summer of 1892, was arrested today by Deputy Sheriff Walgering on orders of arrest granted by Judge Cullen of the supreme court of Brooklyn in two actions brought against him arising out of his capof the City of Bolivar in August, 1892, ture of the City of Bolivar in August, 1892, and the imprisonment of citizens of the

Hernandez was arrested at the Victoria Hotel as he was preparing to leave for the steamer on which he expected to sail at noon for his native country.

The actions upon which the arest is based were brought by George F. Underhill and his wife, Jennie L. Underhill.

Mr. Underhill declares that he lost his entire property because of Gen Herren. entire property because of Gen. Hernan-dez's action, and, in order to save his life was obliged to leave the country. He asks $50,000 damages for the loss of his business, and $55,000 damages for the personal injuries he suffered. The ball of the general fin this suit was fixed at $10,000.

Mrs. Underhill's suit is based on substantially the same claims. She asks $25,000 damages, and bail in her suit is fixed at ages. This is an increase over last year of 3,721, but this increase is not commensurate with the growth of the service. Attention is called to the increase in the

Gen. Hernandez secured his liberty shortly before noon by putting up a certified check for $15,000, the aggregate amount of the ball in the two actions. He left the sheriff's office accompanied by friends.

BIG FOOT BALL GAMES.

Princeton and Pennsylvania: Harvard and Cornell.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 4.-The ardor of the thousands of persons who will see the University of Pennsylvania and the the University of Pennsylvania and the Princeton foot ball elevens battle for supremacy at Manheim this afternoon was somewhat dampened when they arose this somewhat dampened when they arose this morning and found a heavy rain in progress, with no signs of abatement. It, however, takes more than the elements to postpone a collegiate foot ball contest, and the piayers and their thousands of sympathizers literally defied old Boreas.

Long before noon crowds began entering the grounds, so as to secure points of vantage. The Princeton team, with a large of sympathizers, arrived this morning and were quartered at the LaFayette shortly after noon.

Not the least bit deterred by the horrible weather, the crowds are steadily pouring into the grounds of the Germantown Cricket Club, where the great Princeton-University of Pennsylvania foot ball game is to be played. At 1 o'clock yelling, shouting, hoise-producing adherents of the two teams are grouped around the stout iron fence which keeps them off the playing field.

Although the time for beginning the game

Inquiry among the other democratic managers in the city this morning showed the concensus of opinion to be that the majority would reach at least 15,000, perhaps 20,000. Some of them were of the opinion that O'Farrall and the state ticket would have a class shave. But all thought so. This action is taken under authority of section 3 of the Sherman law of 1800, "That the Secretary of the Treasury shall each month coin 2,000,000 ounces of the silver each month coin 2,000,000 ounces of the silver bullion purchased under the provisions of the legislature quite safe.

More Horses Than Ever Will Be Here

The Washington Jockey Club has decided upon the appointment of "Dick" McCann as starter for the eighteen-day meeting of the club, which will commence on the 23d instant and continue until the 14th of next month. Messrs. Geo. M. Oyster of this city and H. D. McIntyre, secretary of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, will occupy the judges' stand. Mr. McIntyre was formerly resident of this city, was for a number of years the secretary of the National Jockey Club of this city. Six races wil be run throughout the coming meeting, the first being called at 1:30, the am running from $300 to $400. From the applications for stable room already re-ceived it is evident that there will be the greatest number of horses engaged than

GENERAL MARKET REPORTS

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.-Today's half session was almost entirely devoid of incident and quotations were confined within narrow limits. Prices at the opening compared favorably with last night's closing, but lacked incentive necessary to improvement. London was irregular and did nothing of importance on this side. The professional element controls the present situation and is inclined to work for profits on the short side.

The effect of the adjournment of Congress was somewhat of a disappointment to the advocates of higher prices and left them without any argument in support of their position. The discounting process had anticipated all the good that came from that event and treated the official announcement with indifference.

The foreign market, however, is slowly responding to the happy termination of the struggle over silver and will willingly exchange gold for our better class of securities as opportunity offers.

The plethora of money and the proba-bilities of moderate gold imports will prove an effective check to any continued cam-paign against values, despite the apparent successful raid made by the bear party during the present week.

during the present week.

While no sustained advance can be expected, it is highly probable that shrewd traders will realize profits from both accounts by a careful manipulation of their holdings so as to follow the rallies and reactions alternately.

Burlington, which was a favorite of the pessimistic following early in the week by reason of its having a dividend soon to provide for and a falling off in grain receipts, is now being purchased by the same interests that were instrumental in trying to force a decline.

The closing was duli and in the neigh sorhood of the lowest prices of the day.
